

" In November 2007, we became the first dedicated pipette calibration laboratory in Ireland to be awarded ISO 17025 accreditation. We engaged Mary Fennelly, Webwriters.ie then to ensure that we got maximum media exposure from this important event. In terms of both the advice she provided and the extensive media coverage that she generated - nationally, locally and online - we feel we got excellent value for our money. I couldn't have asked for more."
